

---

Contents

Volume 34 Issue 2 Number 134

Articles

- Emil Kraepelin as a historian of psychiatry – one hundred years on BURKHART BRÜCKNER ..... 111
- ‘Picture imperfect’: the motives and uses of patient photography in the asylum
CAROLINE DAHLQUIST AND PETER KINDERMAN..... 130
- A mad yearning for solitude: Timon the Misanthrope and his relevance to the study of ancient psychopathology
NADINE METZGER..... 146
- Mortality among those certified under lunacy legislation in Scotland
during World War I
MARGARET WHITE ..... 162
- Rosenhan revisited: successful scientific fraud
ANDREW SCULL ..... 180
- George Stephen Penny (1885–1964): his life and medical encounters before, during and after admission to Broadmoor Criminal Lunatic Asylum
CLAIRE HILTON ..... 196

Classic Text No. 134

- ‘A case of Wernicke-Bostroem’s expansive autopsychosis’, by Ib Ostfeld (1944); introduction and translation by JOHAN SCHIOLDANN ..... 209

Book Review

- Rachel Aviv, Strangers to Ourselves: Unsettled Minds and the Stories That Make Us
(Eric Caplan) ..... 226

Erratum

- Erratum to: Gustav Nikolaus Specht (1860–1940): psychiatric practice, research and teaching during a change of psychiatric paradigm before and after Kraepelin ..... 228